■ ■ Introduction

Perez Sports is a full-service, professional-athlete representation agency exclusively representing professional football players. At Perez Sports, it's not just about building business relationships; we treat our clients like family. As a result of these close relationships, we are better able to tailor our services to our clients' specific needs and interests, as well as counsel them through the highs and lows of life as a professional football player. Unlike many of its competitors, Perez Sports Associates truly cares about the well being of each and every client.

Here at Perez Sports, we believe that there are three elements of success. First, you need to have the passion to be great. You have to have the desire to be the best at what you do.

Second, you have to be prepared for any chance that may arise to showcase your talents. Only those individuals who combine their passion with the ultimate level of preparation will maximize the third element of success, opportunity.

Perez Sports works diligently to create the third element, opportunity. Through our contacts with pro football scouts, coaches, and personnel executives, we apply our passion and our preparation to secure an opportunity for our client.

About Us

Perez Sports' philosophy is very simple: represent good, hardworking, honest football players and good things will happen. Perez Sports was founded by brothers John and Bryan Perez and represents a dream turned into reality. Now that the Perez brothers have realized their dream, it is their mission to turn each client's dream of playing professional football into a reality as well.

John Perez is a Certified Contract Advisor with both the NFLPA and CFLPA and is the Lead Contract Negotiator for Perez Sports. He has built strong professional relationships with many NFL scouts, personnel, and executives. As a result, Perez Sports is an agency with established credibility and direct access to the NFL's decision makers. In addition, John has also served as a guest speaker on the Agent Panel at the FCS Bowl in Daytona Beach, Florida, an annual collegiate football all-star game.

Bryan Perez is also a Certified Contract Advisor with the NFLPA and CFLPA and currently serves as Perez Sports' Director of Player Scouting. In addition to contract negotiation and research, he is responsible for the evaluation of all prospective clients. His background includes having worked as a regional scout for the CFL's Ottawa REDBLACKS. He has also been interviewed by major media outlets like NBC Sports radio, "The Score" in Chicago, and numerous podcasts. Due to his expertise, Bryan has gained respect from NFL scouts and management for his accurate player evaluations.

As the Testimonials page attests, Perez Sports approaches every situation with honesty, integrity, and commitment and seeks clients who have the same traits and qualities. Perez Sports conducts a thorough on and off-the field analysis of each prospective client to ensure that they have the necessary work ethic and character to succeed.

Services

Perez Sports offers a full array of services to our clients. This “umbrella of services” allows our clients to concentrate on playing football while we concentrate on the business of football.

At Perez Sports, we offer the following services:

- contract negotiation and review;
- NFL Preparation Program;
- endorsements, marketing and public relations;
- wealth management and education; and
- post-career planning.

Jake Ceresna, DL

In addition to the above mentioned services, we understand that our clients may develop off- the-field business opportunities, charities, and other interests during their career. At Perez Sports, we help with many of these issues that confront professional athletes to help make life easier for our clients.

Finally, there is no “middle man” at Perez Sports. We allow every client direct access to us. Each client has our personal cell phone numbers and can reach us at any time. We are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Whatever problem, concern, or question arises, we are there to help.

Jace Daniels, OL

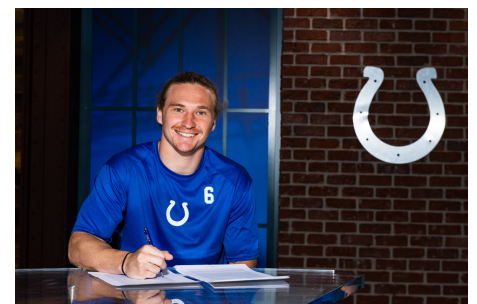

Contract Negotiation and Review

At Perez Sports, we have a thorough understanding of the NFL & CFL Collective Bargaining Agreements and salary cap systems. Our knowledge and preparation allows us to effectively negotiate fair contracts for our clients.

At Perez Sports, we:

- zealously represent our clients with honesty, integrity, and civility;
- secure the maximum compensation payable; and
- ensure they report to training camp on time without compromising the compensation payable to them.

We constantly study the NFL Collective Bargaining Agreement and salary cap health of all 32 teams to prepare our clients for free agency. In addition, we regularly conduct contract reviews and educate our clients about their contract, the terms, and rights afforded to them.

Kenji Bahar, QB

NFL Preparation Program

Perez Sports has developed an unparalleled NFL Preparation Program. Upon signing with Perez Sports, we complete a detailed assessment of our clients' physical strengths and weaknesses. Once their strengths and weaknesses have been identified, an individually customized workout plan is created for each client. The workout plan, which may include nutritional guidelines and a supplement program, assists our clients in improving their strength, speed, and quickness for the NFL Combine and Pro Day workouts.

We also prepare our clients for the mental aspect of the NFL Combine and Draft process by administering several Wonderlic Tests and educating them on the types of questions they will face from NFL personnel during team interviews. In addition, our clients have access to a NFL Mentor who will enlighten and educate them on the overall NFL Combine and Draft process.

Moreover, we provide our clients with positional training. Our NFL Preparation Program includes former NFL players who help coach our clients on the techniques necessary to maximize their athletic ability. Positional training also helps our clients with the transition from college to the NFL and ultimately assists them with their performance in off-season mini-camps and pre-season training camp. For some clients, training at their school with their Strength & Conditioning Coach to prepare for the NFL Combine and their Pro Day is the best environment to achieve maximum results. For others, working out at a training facility that follows the Perez Sports' NFL Preparation Program is the preferred choice. With Perez Sports, we work with our clients to formulate the best plan possible.

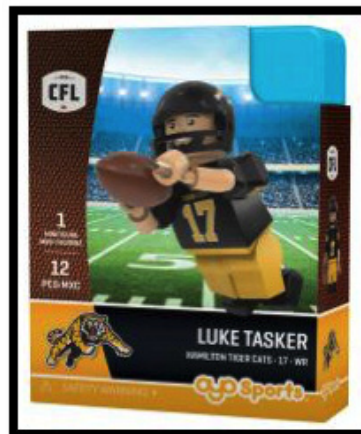

Carlton Agudosi, WR

■ ■ Endorsements and Marketing

At Perez Sports, we actively market our clients and seek endorsement opportunities as a means to generate additional income. At Perez Sports, we pursue marketing opportunities such as:

- speaking engagements;
- promotions;
- product endorsement;
- interviews;
- autograph signings;
- football cards; and
- public appearances.

Luke Tasker, WR

- procurement of insurance;
- coordination of realistic budgets; and
- development of sound investment plans.

Kyle Steuck, OL

- offer straight-forward and honest advice concerning any and all of our clients' endeavors.

Chad Anderson, Offensive Lineman

“For a kid from Germany, to have John Perez on my side during my journey was really helpful. He is someone who knows the game, the business and what to do at the right time. But, moving to the U.S. for the NFL and trying to figure out everything, John really helped me understand and prepare. John’s advice and words of “step by step, day by day” meant a lot to me. Being alone in the U.S. with my family back in Germany and their hopes in my hands, it was difficult to have my mind in the right place. However, it was good to have someone like John who understood how I was feeling and guided me every step of the way. Thank you, John, for everything!”

Moubarak Djeri, Defensive Lineman

“Partnering with John was one of the best life decisions I have ever made. Perez Sports has helped me reach places I have been trying to get to my whole life. My experience with John has been nothing but exceptional. He guided me towards the right people and has the right contacts. He is capable of making the unimaginable a reality!”

Frank Feaster, Fullback

“When I first started out in the process of trying to become an NFL player, I was looking for an agent that I could trust and who cared about more than football. I found that in John Perez and Perez Sports Associates. From our first conversation over the phone, to the first time he met my parents, it's been a great growing relationship. There is no doubt that I made the right decision.”

Carlton Agudosi, Wide Receiver

“My experience with Bryan and John Perez has been nothing less than excellent. They have been with me through both the highs and the lows of my career and have always been completely open and honest with me. The Perez brothers have been very thorough in each and every challenge we have faced and this is very important to me. I would definitely recommend them to any football player seeking representation from an honest and hard-working agency. I can guarantee you will be extremely satisfied with the decision to go with Perez Sports because you will not find two guys who will work any harder than Bryan and John!”
